CLCON No.191 of 2005

Hon'ble M.M. Ghildiyal, J.

Heard Sri C.K. Sharma, learned counsel for the applicant/Contempt Petitioner and Sri Parikshit Saini, Adv. for the respondents.

This Court on 20.07.2005 issued notices to the respondents to file their response.

Since the order dated 4.5.2005 passed in writ petition no. 3031/01 M/s Bhanwar and ors. Was not complied with by the Chairman, hence the present Contempt Petition was filed by the applicant.

Now the writ petition has finally been disposed of on 16.09.2005 and the Jal Sansthan has been directed to comply the order passed by this Court. In fact, the respondents, in the Contempt Petition, have no jurisdiction to comply the orders passed by this Court because the petitioner is not the employee of the respondent no. 1 & 2 in the Contempt Petition.

The Contempt Petition is misconceived and is dismissed as such.
